Kideney Architects has contributed to Western New York's architectural heritage since 1926. We have the experience to lead clients through all aspects of the built environment design process to produce facilities that are functional, architecturally significant and reflect the needs of their users.

As the oldest and largest architectural-specific design firm in Western New York, our 85 year legacy is a testament to the quality of our time-tested architectural design services. The cornerstone of our architectural practice is our ability to listen to clients and create solutions that reflect their vision. This skill at leading clients through the planning, design and construction process often results in successful, long-term working relationships.

Services include:

- | | |
|---------------------------|-------------------------------|
| Architectural Design | Space Planning |
| Interior Design | LEED Strategy & Documentation |
| Building Condition Survey | 3-D Computer Graphics |
| Landscape Architecture | Construction Administration |
| Master Site Planning | Code Review and Analysis |

We are familiar with the challenges of both historic building renovation and state-of-the-art new construction. Our professional teams design facilities for the following sectors:
